Announcements

Just a reminder: read, Read, R E A D, and then do some more reading this summer. In their spare time, the students can review the math facts and then read other great books.

"Leaders are readers."

Homework

Check assignment books

Personal Note

Just a few short days and this whole school year will be over. What a great group of students with whom to spend my days. I will miss them! I trust that everyone will make wonderful memories these next months. Thank you to all for being so supportive of our school. It is the families that make NCS a great place to work. May God richly bless you and your family.

Reading

We will be reading a last story in the "Heroes" section in the basal reader and then several special selections.

Language Arts

The students will do some fun things with words!

Math

The students will be doing some interesting things to do with numbers and Math concepts!

Science

We will continue with the study of different classifications of birds.

Social Studies

The students will chose a state and make an alphabet book on that state. We have 2 sets of encyclopedias from which they can cut pictures!
